LOUIS VIMONT.

You will miss some good bargains if you fail to call on C. W. Howard during his sale of fine decorated China, Cut Glass, Lamps, Bric-a-Brac, etc. This sale will last until Saturday night, Sept. 19. Come in an look over the stock. Cash or in trade for country produce we are selling the entire line for cost.

A lady demonstrator will show at our store on the 17, 18, and 19 of this month, how easily graining can be done with "Chi-Namel." Everyone is cordially invited to attend and see samples while they last.
MILLER & BEST.

The first impromptu dance of the season was held Saturday evening. It was a delightful affair and added much to the pleasure of many of the home-sick students. Active work has begun in the institution, study hall has opened and the cadets have begun to drill. The foot-ball schedule will be made out soon and the outlook is more promising for this sport than it has been for several years. Between fifty and sixty students are enrolled and many others yet to come. The faculty promises to be the best the institution has ever had and is keenly alive to every interest of both institution and student.

Miss Elizabeth Allen entertained Thursday evening with a dance.

Mr. Wm. Sheeler, of Richmond, spent Saturday and Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sheeler.

Miss Louise Warford left Monday to resume her duties as lady principle of Campbell-Hagerman College, Lexington.

Mrs. G. L. Kerr and daughter returned Saturday after a month's visit to her mother, Mrs. McElroy, of Georgia.

Masters Thompson and Louis Vimont left Saturday for a visit to their aunt, Mrs. W. A. Munzing, of Maysville.

Mrs. Wallace Shannon and daughters arrived Thursday after several weeks' visit to her mother, Mrs. Scales, at Brocksville.

Mrs. G. W. Dailey and daughter, Miss Lucille, returned Thursday after a visit to her parents, Elder and Mrs. Saunders, of Paintsville.

Rev. R. S. Sanders, of the Presbyterian church, preached to the cadets Sunday morning. They attended in a body. His address was both pleasing and appropriate.

Jim Wolf, colored, was tried before Squire Thomason Saturday afternoon for selling intoxicating liquor at his home, but owing to the insufficiency of testimony the warrant was dismissed.

Mrs. M. E. Hancock, of Dallas, Texas, assisted by local talent, will give a benefit concert for her aunt, Mrs. Ada M. Miller, art teacher at the Millersburg Female College, on Friday evening, Sept. 18. Mrs. Miller has occupied the position as art teacher of the Millersburg Female College for nearly forty years and in that time accumulated a large collection of valuable pieces, which were in her studio at the time the college burned, Oct. 9, 1907. She has done much for the town and community. If you have appreciated her efforts in the past you will give her a large audience on the date named.

Noah Williams, colored, shot and seriously wounded his half-sister, Lettie Thornton, Friday afternoon, near their home on Lawson Hill, with a 42-caliber pistol, the ball entering the right groin, lodging near the pit of the stomach. Williams claimed that his sister had been from home all day and there was work for her to do which had been promised to other people. He went to the home of a neighbor, where he found her and urged her to come home. She did so under protest, when a little way from the house she began beating him over the head with a stick, and at this he drew his gun and shot her. His story is not corroborated. He was arrested a few minutes after by Constable J. H. Linville and lodged in the lock-up. He was tried before Squire Thomason Saturday afternoon and sent to jail to await the action of the grand jury. Dr. W. G. Dailey was called to the bedside of the girl and dressed the wound. She is resting as comfortable as can be expected but is by no means out of danger.

The Best is Always the Cheapest
The Malleable Range costs more than cast ranges. We admit it. You will understand the reasons why if you visit O. E. Phillips' store any time this week. Hot biscuits, delicious coffee, the Malleable girl's latest cook book and a useful souvenir, all free.

Innocent Suffer with Guilty.
There is no sort of wrong deed of which a man can bear the punishment alone; you cannot isolate yourself, and say that the evil which is in you shall not spread. Men's lives are as thoroughly blended with each other as the air they breathe. Every sin causes suffering to others besides those who commit it.—George Eliot.

LIVE STOCK AND CROP NOTES

L. S. Rogers, of Nicholas county, is said to have sold to Pennsylvania parties forty-one head of mules for $4,600.

J. W. Carroll, of Nicholasville, sold to Thomas Butler, 123 head of Tennessee sheep at $5 per head.

Dusie McKinley, of Pointexter, has been offered $800 for his premium winning two-year-old jack.

H. N. Rankin, of Carlisle, has been buying several car loads of mule colts at prices ranging from $37 to $55.

A sale of Berkshire hogs at Vandalia, Ill., 50 head sold for $9,730, an average of $174. The top price was $2,500 for a yearling boar.

Mr. J. A. Dungan, a farmer living a mile and a half south of Gibson, Tenn., has a pure blood O. I. C. sow, four years old, that has brought six litters of pigs, sixty pigs in all. She has raised from Black Poland China sires; except the last litter of ten, she has never raised anything but pure white pigs. The product of this has been worth more than $500 to Mr. Dungan. He has refused $50 for this hog and last litter of pigs.

The world is eating up its sheep. The number on foot is being steadily diminished and the same is true of cattle and poultry, says the London meat Trades Journal. From the available statistics it is said that in three years, should there be no increase, at the present rate of consumption every herd of cattle, every hog, every sheep, and every chicken in the barn yards would be eaten up. It has been noticeable for several years that the number of food animals raised throughout the world was steadily decreasing. The question is unless conditions are modified and that shortly, from where are the meats of the future to come?

Great Ovation.

William Jennings Bryan was given an ovation upon his arrival at Wheeling Saturday afternoon. A large crowd was at the station and cheered the Democratic candidate. So dense was the crowd that Mr. Bryan's train was run down in front of the Windsor Hotel and a detail of police made a passage way from the train to the hotel. On the way to Wheeling Mr. Bryan made several speeches to large and enthusiastic crowds in Ohio.

THEATRICAL.

The dramatization of Lottie Blair Parker's "Under Southern Skies" is the next big attraction booked in at the Grand.

VADEVILLE AT THE GRAND.

The vaudeville bill at the Grand gave way to the performance of "Magda" last night and will make its first appearance tonight. The bill for the opening half of this week consists of Frank Kreiger, a musical artist, and Fielding and Carlos, a team of fancy skaters. Of these fancy skaters, the Lockport, N. Y., News, May 22, 1908, says:

"For the remainder of the week Mr. Fielding and Miss Carlos, considered the most graceful fancy skaters in the country, will perform at the Walton rink. Last night they were greeted by a large audience and their work was of a high order. Mr. Fielding was particularly good in his club foot skating. This was a real novel feat and it was done in professional order. The waltz and two-step skating was highly applauded. Both performers were most neatly gowned in uniforms of red. Some first class fancy skaters have been seen during the season at the Walton rink, and Mr. Fielding and Miss Carlos are no exception to the rule.

Painful Accident.

Wm. Kane, of this city, met with a painful accident a few days ago by a window sash he was painting falling, badly lacerating his left arm. Dr. W. C. Ussery was called to dress the wound and experienced some difficulty in the effort to stop the flow of blood from the severed veins. Mr. Kane is now doing nicely.

Fell From Tank.

Mr. John Shy, government storekeeper at the bottling house at the Paris Distilling Co.'s plant near town, fell from a tank at the bottling house yesterday afternoon, and it is feared he is seriously hurt internally.

That Let Him Out.

"Gimme a bundle of assorted views of America," said the man who was about to sail for Europe. "A man ought to send post cards of his own country first."—Kansas City Journal.

Red Men With 101 Ranch Show.

The Indians with the 101 Ranch Wild West Show, which will be here on Saturday, Sept. 19, are wild, free denizens of the prairie and forest who still adhere to the buckskin garb, adorn the walls of their lodges with the Sacred Bundle and guard the household from invisible enemies by the buffalo shield which hangs on its tripod back of the primitive home. They represent nearly a dozen Indian nations and include papooses and their mothers, radiant belles and beauties of the wigwag, wrinkled warriors and renowned chiefs. Crooked Nose, a stalwart figure, is the champion bow and arrow shot of the Comanche cult. Bull Bear and High Chief are noted braves. Flatiron, 95 years old is looked upon as the greatest orator of the Sioux nation. The older cowboys with the organization assert that it was Flatiron who harangued the Indians before they went into the Custer fight. He is still an orator and every once in awhile he holds a pow-wow.

Three other warriors who had conspicuous part in the Custer massacre are members of the 101 ranch aggregation. Charlie-owns-the-Dog, Standing

Could and Long Bull. They are cloth to talk of the slaughter. Long Bull is credited with being one of the greatest Indian statesmen of history. The red men will make a bitouack of tepees on the 101 Ranch Show grounds, where visitors will receive a hearty aboriginal welcome. An interpreter is in attendance. They are a conspicuous feature of the long and picturesque parade, which will be given in the forenoon, receding the two arena performances.

Big Day at Cynthia.

Wednesday, September 23, will be Equity and Grange Day at the Cynthia Fair. See the grange floats.

Paris Grocer Complimented.

The title page of the Retail Grocers Journal for this month contains a fine half-tone cut of Mr. C. P. Cook, of this city, Treasurer of the State Grocers Association. It also contains an able article from the pen of Mr. Cook.

Not Quite What She Meant.

The young man who received the following note from his fiancée would have been better pleased if she had employed a comma or two: "Jack Huggard called yesterday. Jack couldn't have heard of our engagement, for before leaving he proposed. I told him I was sorry I was engaged to you."

Do You Need Water on Your Place?

If so, get W. R. Renfro to drill you a well. He has been drilling wells throughout Central Kentucky for thirty years, and has made a reputation for good work and honest dealings. He feels that he can refer with confidence to the citizens of that section. Avoid accidents and vexatious delays by an experienced and successful firm. W. R. Renfro is equipped with the latest improved steam and horse power machinery, and assisted by skilled hands, can drill wells as quickly and cheap as it is possible to do. Anyone needing water should drop him a card. P. O. Box 241, or phones 905, Lexington, Ky. Sept-2m

ATTENTION, FARMERS!

We are having daily calls for farms for sale and rent.
Thomson, Muir & Barns.

Paris Man to Open Big Factory.

Courtland Leer, of this city, is soon to open a factory in the city of Lexington for the purpose of manufacturing a new account system that he has perfected and upon which he has secured the U. S. patent right. The factory will employ about fifty men.

The device perfected by Mr. Leer, and which is known as the "Leer system," is calculated to simplify certain lines of bookkeeping of the present and will prove itself to be invaluable to all the branches of trade.

Mr. Leer has eighteen salesmen on the road covering all parts of the Southern States and new men are being added weekly. His factory now occupies the third floor of the building on the Southeast corner of Main and Limestone streets in Lexington, but will later be moved into more commodious quarters.

Mingling of Past and Present.

An immigrant hotel in a narrow street between Church and Greenwich streets, New York, has a veranda in front, where immigrants sit in the evening, smoke German pipes, wear wooden shoes and drink beer. In the basement are a bank, a billiard table and an intelligence office. Open all night.

Stimulus of Sex Rivalry.

In her free competition with the other sex woman will occupy the place in life for which she is best fitted. By taking this position she will help to elevate man, the wife the husband, because the best way to bring about the survival of the fittest men is to promote rivalry between the two sexes in the struggle for existence.—Rome Tribune.

Skyscrapers.

Modern skyscrapers are compressed cities shot up perpendicular to the earth, and honeycombed by hurrying humanity which humming little elevator railroads dump in and out of them.—Sunday Magazine.

To Cure Soft Corns.

Take a little common chalk, scrape it and put a pinch on the corn, and then bind with a piece of old linen, not too tightly. Repeat the application in a few days when the corn will come off like a shell and will be perfectly cured.
